THOMAS P. HENRY

The Lanconian
of 1961

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF SCHWENKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
SCHWENKSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

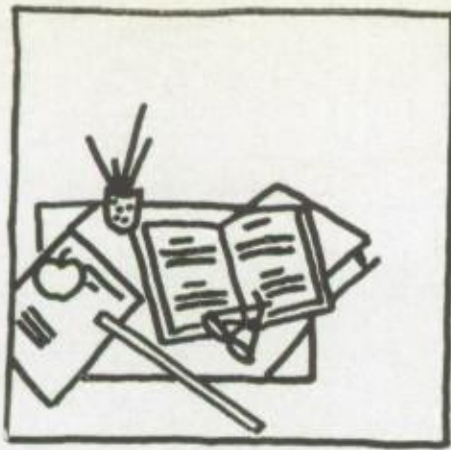

Foreword

We chose as the theme for our 1961 Lanconian the passage of our class through our senior year. With fond memories we recall our autumn, which brought to us a new eagerness to learn and an enthusiastic school spirit; our winter, which brought unpredictable weather and much homework; our spring, which brought annual social events and spring fever; and summer, which brought our graduation, and vacation for those students returning next year.

As we graduate, we wish to thank all who made our high school years successful and possible. We also hope that succeeding classes will have as many pleasant memories as we have had.

Dedication

For your faithful SERVICE to our school,
For your HELP in countless little ways,
For your often unappreciated KINDNESS,
For your sincere INTEREST in every student,
For your capable ASSISTANCE to our teachers,
For your constant EFFICIENCY,
For your ever-pleasant SMILE and CHEERFULNESS,

We, the Class of 1961, dedicate our yearbook to you,

MRS. RUTH SCHUCHERT

Administration and Faculty

To the Class of 1961—

As you stand on the threshold of high school graduation, what do you want of the world you are entering? What kind of life do you expect?

Do not ask for a world "flowing with milk and honey," a life without problems. The man or woman who has never known the satisfaction of meeting and solving one of life's great problems has missed half the fun!

We hope that during your school days we have given you a start in developing the strength and courage and wisdom that will enable you to solve life's problems when they do come.

Best wishes to each and every member of the Class of 1961.

To the Class of 1961:

In a few short weeks you will be graduated from our school. Many of you will leave this area to further your education or to seek employment. Your future endeavors will scatter you, as a class, to the opposite ends of our nation. You are the product of our educational system. We know we will be proud of you.

I sincerely hope that you have learned the value of critical thinking during the past twelve years. Today we are beset by many serious problems on the local, national, and international scene. Examine all problems and issues with a clear and open mind. Rid yourself of prejudice and superstition. Do not let emotions cloud the issue. It will take real courage to stand for your convictions in the face of what may be a popular attitude of the crowd. We, as never before, need educated people who can think clearly and intelligently and who will take a stand for what they believe is right. Only through this approach, will we be able to solve the problem and find the answers to the issues facing us.

My best wishes for a happy and rewarding future.

We gained concepts . . .

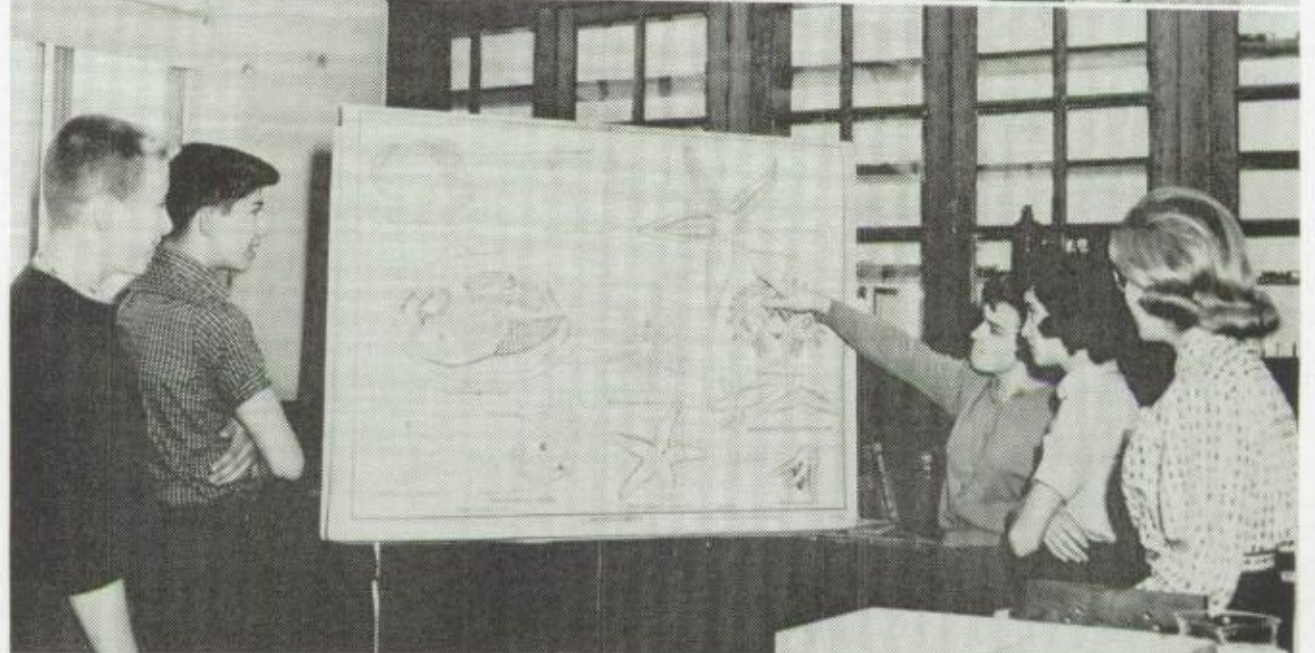

MATHEMATICS

Algebra I and II, geometry, trigonometry, advanced algebra, general math, and business math were the courses offered in this field. Here the mathematical mysteries became "elementary" after capable explanation.

BIOLOGY AND GENERAL SCIENCE

Created to study questions concerning nature and the natural sciences, this department explored the wonders of our scientific world. The students eagerly learned by applying themselves to the basic concepts.

CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS

Spurred on by the challenge of today's focus on scientific achievement, Mr. Hader's classes worked with intense interest. With new equipment and our new lab, individual initiative was encouraged.

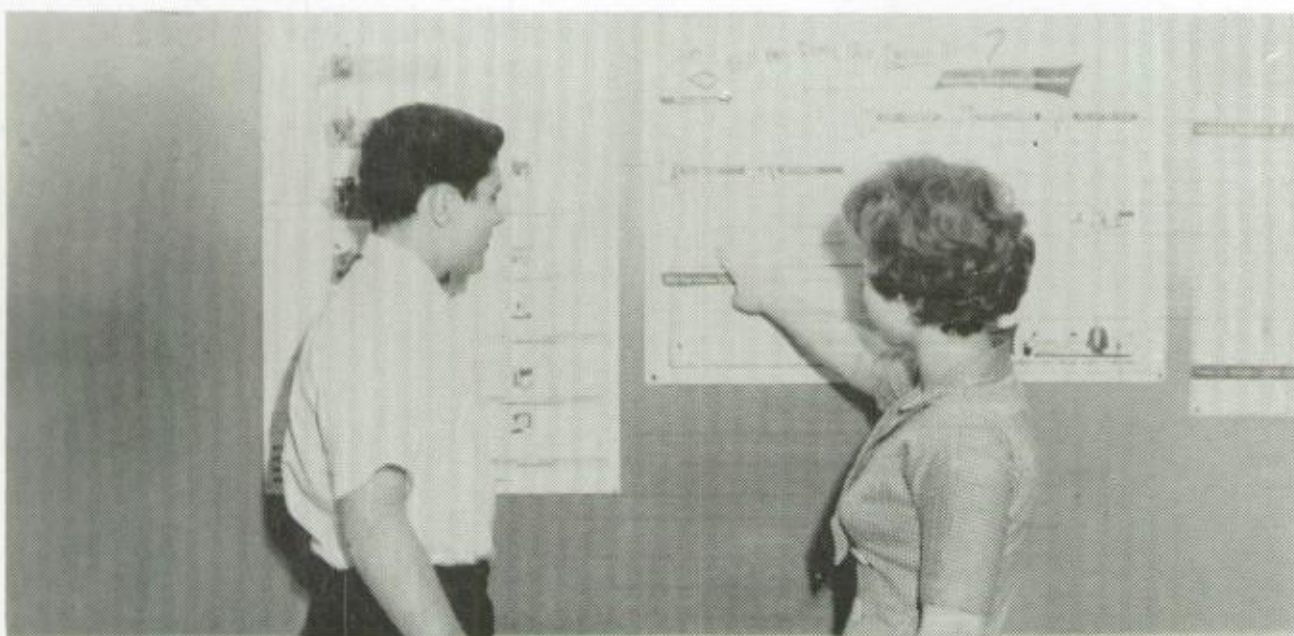

HISTORY

Current events and our constantly changing world situation were stressed by the History Department this year. Along with the regular courses, the basis and background of our American government and democracy were emphasized in our studies.

ENGLISH

The English Department's job is two-fold. Fundamental grammar, spelling, and composition are taught as essential parts of successful communication. Appreciation of literature is also encouraged as an insight into the world of reading.

LANGUAGE

Two years of both German and Latin are offered to our academic students. In our ever shrinking world, the knowledge of foreign languages has become vital, and the necessity of this department has increased.

LIBRARY

With this year's library addition our student body enjoyed an opportunity new to them. Newspapers, books, magazines, and other facilities were available at the students' discretion.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Director's task is wide in scope, offering services and counsel to the entire student body. This year, Mr. Weaver's advice helped us with college entrance, job opportunities, scholarships, and future plans.

OFFICE PRACTICE

The students in this course became acquainted with efficient office methods. Filing, working with the various technical machines, and the general business routines composed the curriculum of this department.

TYPING

Speed and skill were chief goals of Miss Haley's typing students. Through persistent efforts, the young typists received confidence for their future in business circles or in college.

ART

Mrs. Shaffer led this department in a successful year. Oil painting, ceramics, sketching, textile design, clay work, and other artistic fields made up the roster for the art students.

MUSIC

Presenting an opportunity for a more liberal musical education, this department has continually expanded its facilities. Mr. Biely and his classes sang, listened to records, and developed a keen awareness of today's music.

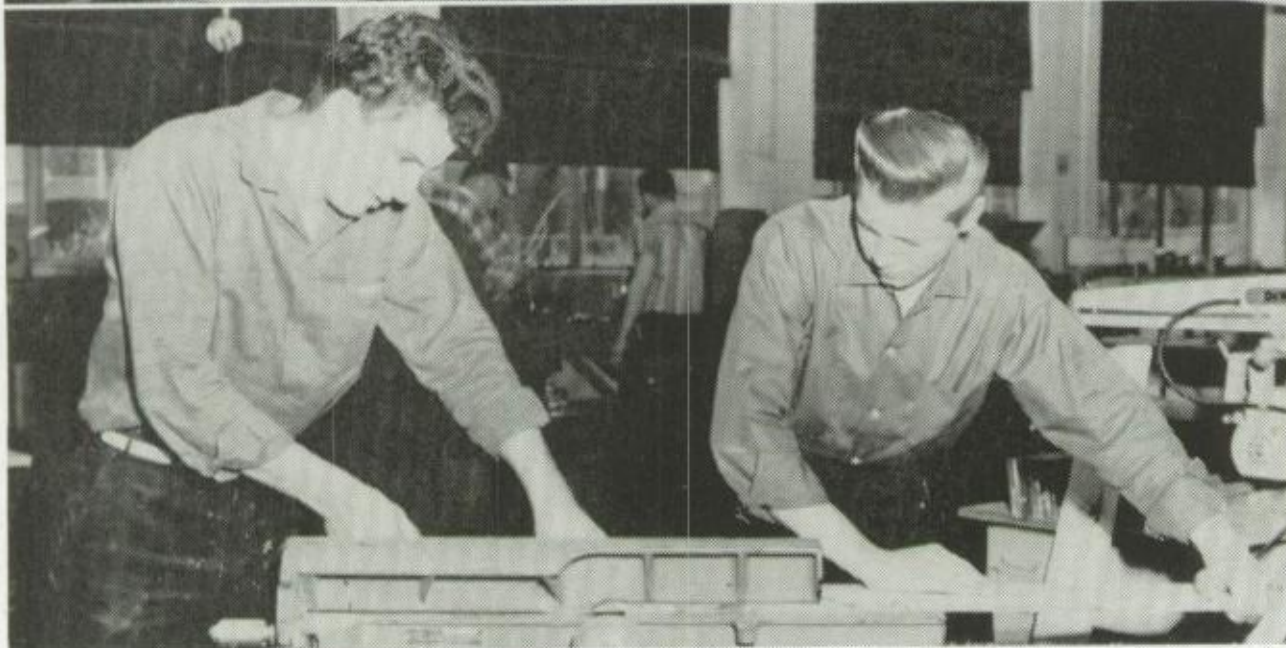

...and practical experience

Desiring to master valuable homemaking abilities, the girls in this department strove for perfection. Guided by Mrs. Anderson, the classes got an over-all picture of household duties and modern living.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Under Mr. Eurich's exacting eye, the "shop boys" gained practical vocational knowledge. The classes learned by doing, and acquired actual experience in mechanical drawing.

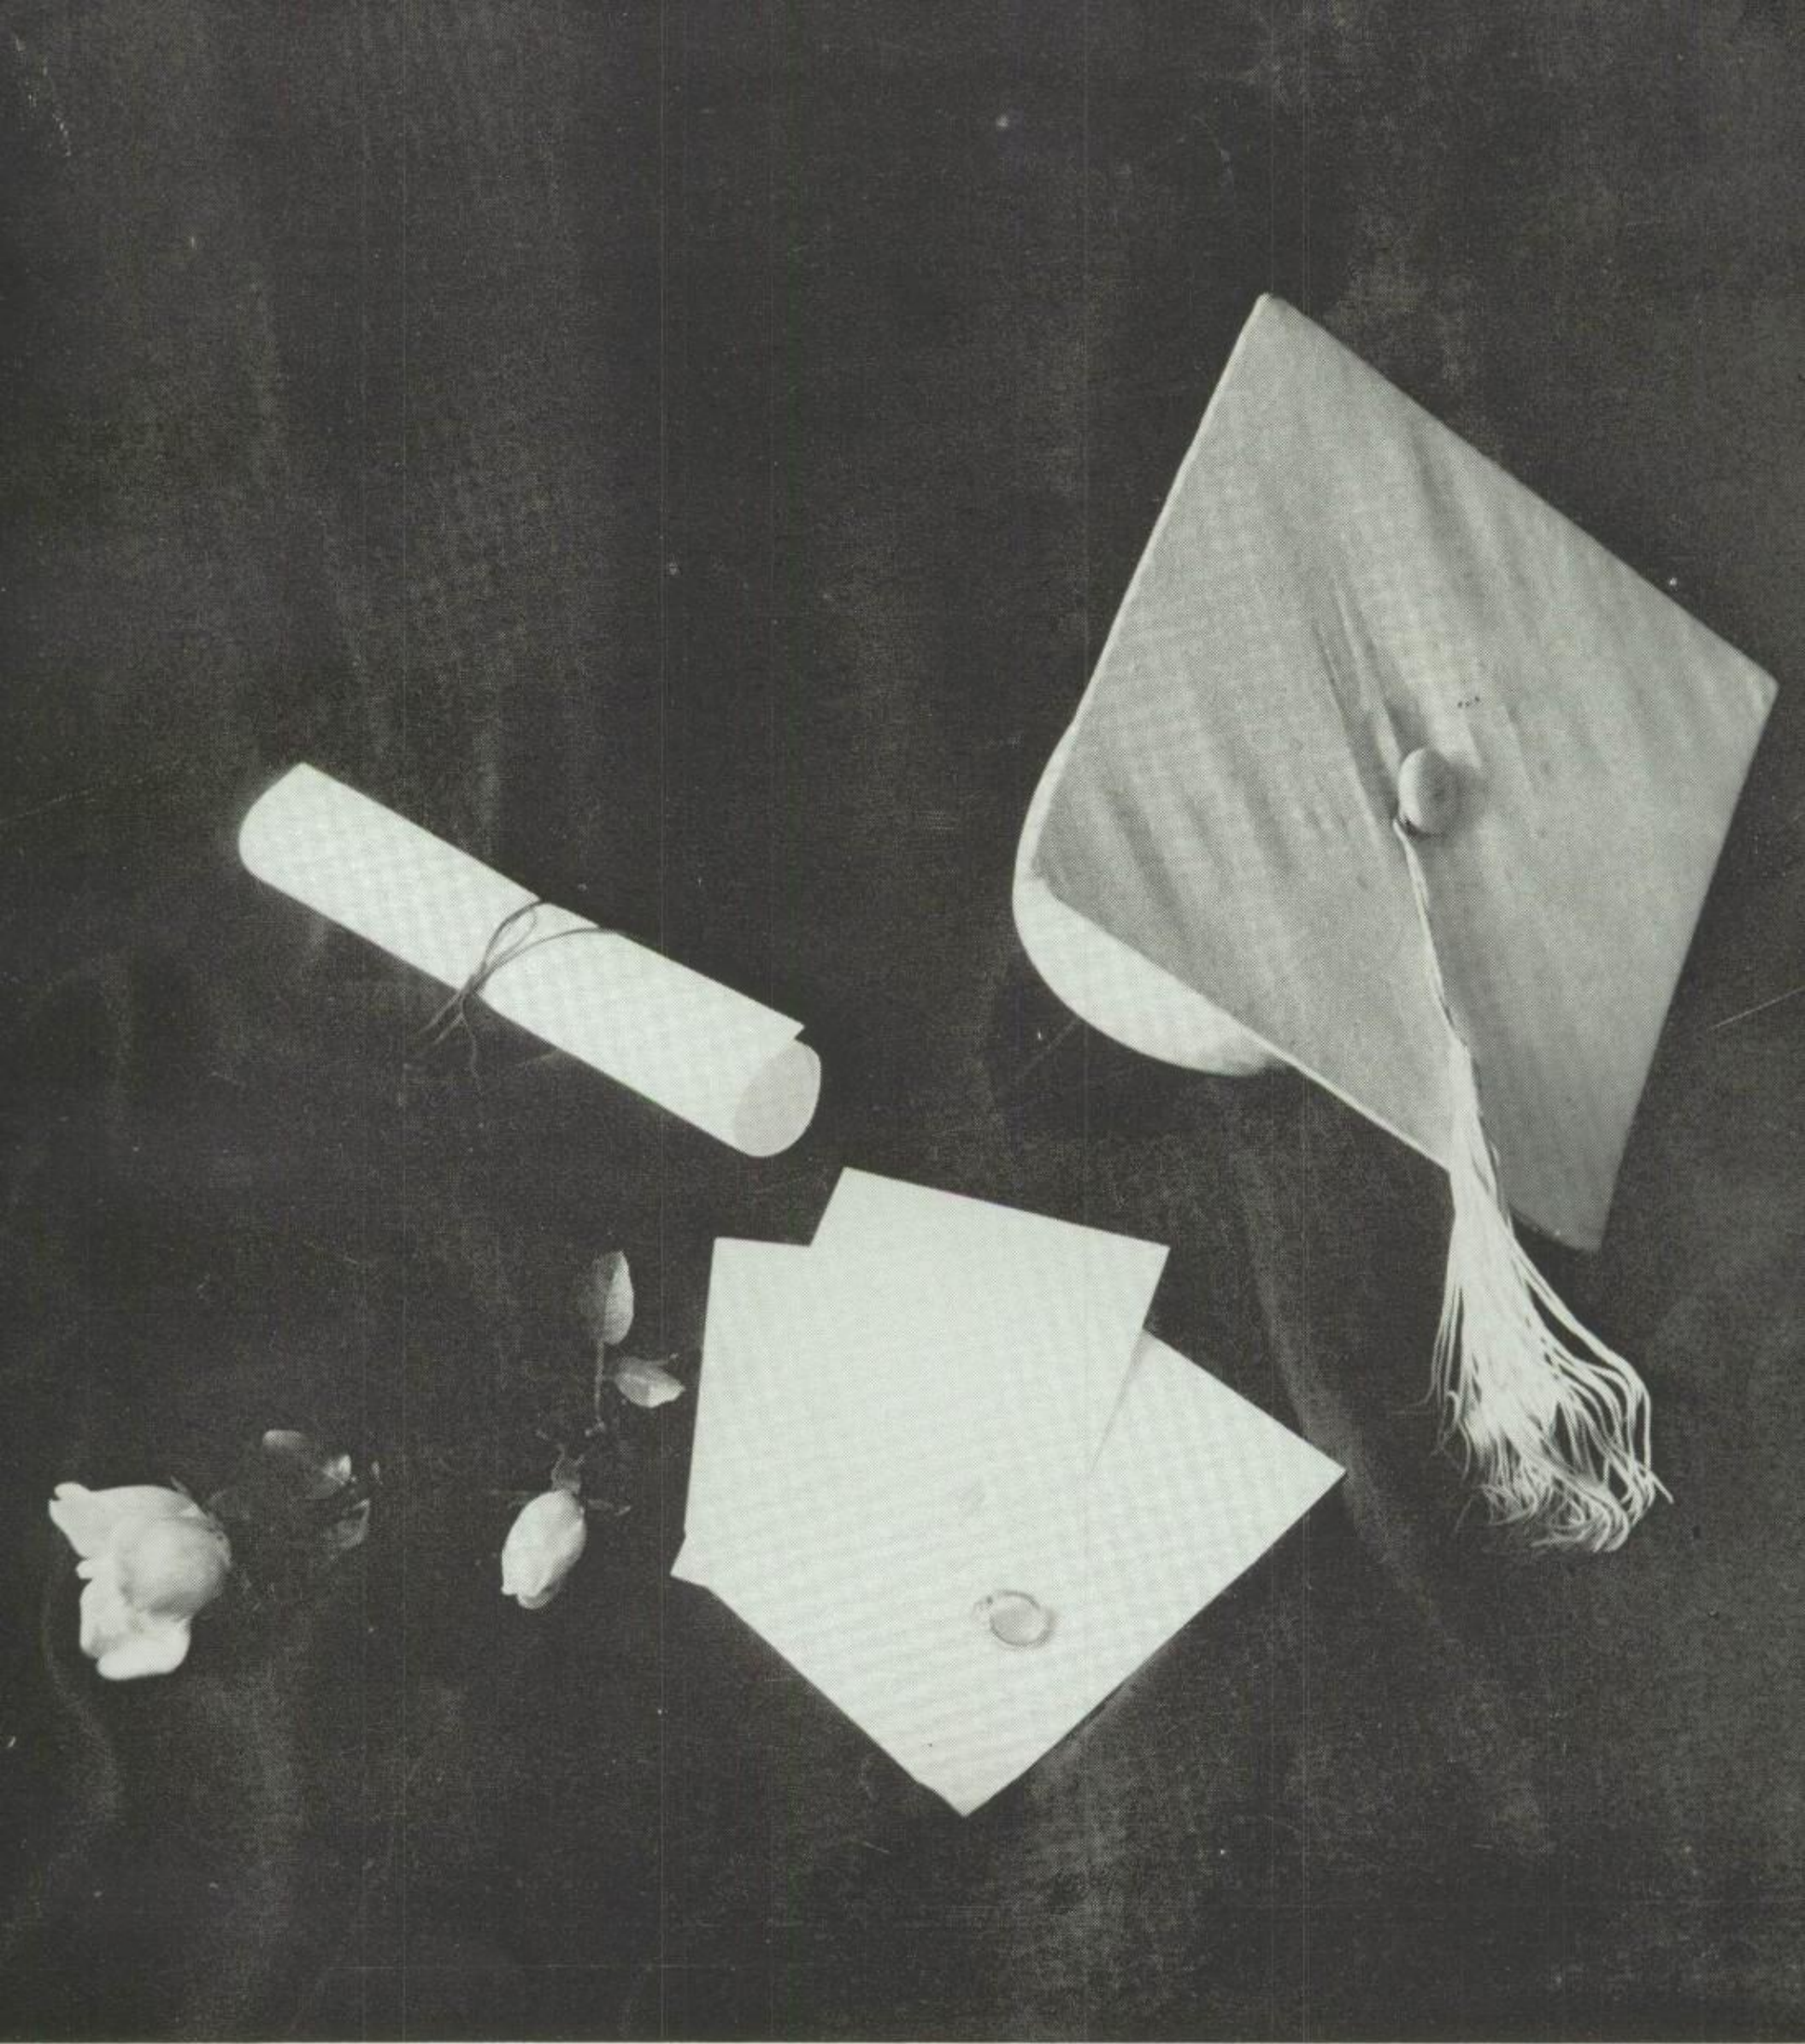

DRIVER TRAINING

Good driving habits and safety precautions were stressed by Mr. Budnovitch, our driver training instructor. Automobile mechanics and basic road rules were also taught.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department was able to introduce new programs this year due to the increased facilities in our new gymnasium. Mr. High and Miss Young put their classes through varied tests with physical fitness and good sportsmanship as their goals.

We recall...

"Young and carefree"

We entered our freshman year in eager anticipation of our high school days. To organize, we elected Patti Friel as our leader and Jane Gertzen as her assistant. Donna Wadlinger kept records of our activities, while Janet Berry handled our financial affairs. More challenging courses of study were introduced to us by new teachers. A thrilling privilege was participating in athletic events for the first time as members of the J.V. and Varsity teams. In the boys' intramural program, we proudly attained the position of runner-up to the champions.

It was now that we began to form our character as a strong class, through the able guidance of Mr. Romasco and Mr. Kroninger as advisors. By the close of a year of good experiences and endeavors, our class was stabilized, and we enjoyed a class party at Woodside Manor.

Back to school in the fall after a summer of jobs and vacations, we entered as sophomores, more confident as a class. Our main project was the preparation of our first dance. Our class rings, enduring symbols of our high school days, were received with much excitement early in December.

We improved our dancing ability by holding a dancing class. This proved an asset to our social skills, which had greater value to us than in junior high.

The night of our dance, "Christmas Fantasy", finally arrived. We still recall how beautiful the Christmas tree looked, coated with angel hair and blue lights.

The tenth of each month was designated "Sophomore Day", celebrated by wearing our vivid class colors, Pink and Black.

Leading us this year were President Carole Cole, Vice-President Ron Musselman, Secretary Donna Wadlinger, and Treasurer Betty Gamble. An inspiring team of class advisors were Mr. Romasco and Mr. Resetar.

We concluded the year with a summer party at the home of Bonnie Ickes.

The junior year calendar was well filled, and therefore we had to assume great responsibility. We began by choosing class officers: Carole Cole, President; Tom Malesky, Vice-President;

Donna Wadlinger, Secretary; Janet Berry and Betty Gamble, Treasurers. Mr. Keenan and Mr. High were our helpful homeroom teachers.

The fall and winter months were spent in preparation for our two dances, "Hawaiian Illusion" and "Spring Fever". Both were cleverly decorated and well-attended. Our first fund-raising project came into view with a candy sale in the spring.

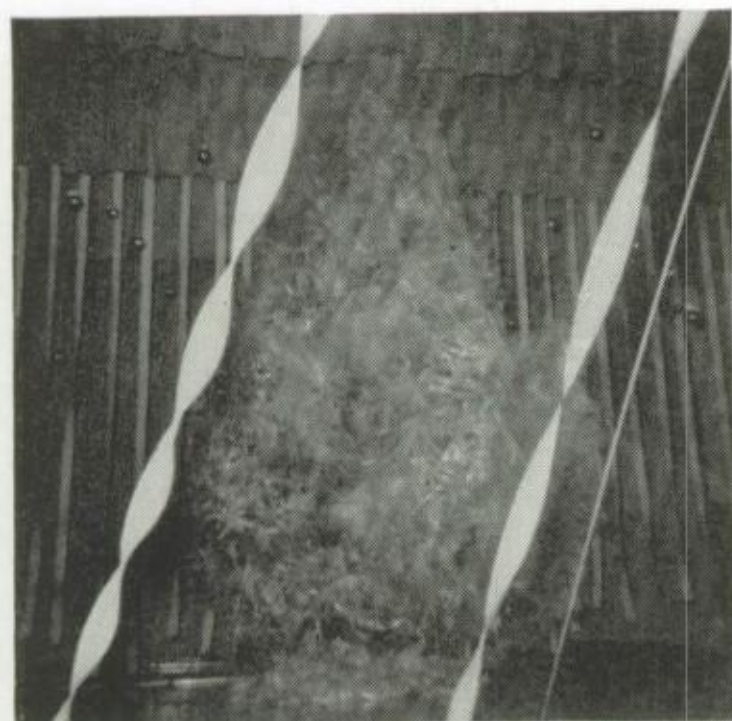

"Myth of May", our prom, was presented for the seniors on May 14, 1960. The theme was put forth with pale yellow decorations, flowers, fountains, and patio settings. The orchestra, "The Dreamlanders", provided music appropriate for the romantic atmosphere. Afterward many attended the Post Prom Party sponsored by the Schwenksville Lions' Club.

As the seniors journeyed to Washington, D. C., our class enjoyed Junior Day, giving us a taste of being school leaders. Our last activity with the Class of 1960 was presenting them with a garland of flowers and a farewell song at the Class Night program.

Our final period of high school life began under the direction of Mr. Carfagno and Mr. Graber. We realized we had much work to do, dances to plan, a yearbook to organize, and a variety of sales to conduct for our trip to Washington. We selected class officers

Carole Cole, Tom Malesky, Donna Wadlinger, and Marvin Jones, and went to work immediately with Christmas candy and card sales.

Several of our classmates comprised the Homecoming Day Court during a great football season: Queen Bonnie Ickes and her attendants Donna Cory, Eva Spatz, Joan Groth, and Donna Hunsicker. We celebrated Halloween with a masquerade party at Woodside Manor. It was during these fall months that we were initiating procedures with colleges and surveying our potential careers.

With the arrival of our graduation year, 1961, we sponsored a dance, "January Jubilee", using a mountain lodge setting. Meanwhile, the yearbook club members were working busily on our yearbook, meeting write-up deadlines, securing advertisements and patrons, and accepting orders. The crowning of Donna Wadlinger and Bill Bogan as King and Queen of Hearts commemorated St. Valentine's Day. March came, and "Farewell to Toyland", our Senior farewell dance, was given in an attractive playland. Practice began for our successful play, "Father of the Bride", performed April 14 and 15.

May was a busy month. Our annual May Day started the chain reaction of events. There our class was represented in field contests and in the May Court. May Queen Patti Friel and her senior attendants, Joan Groth, Carole Cole, and Donna Wadlinger added charm to the festivities. Our entertaining ability was displayed once again in the Senior Assembly on May 12. The following day, it was our turn to enjoy the Junior-Senior Prom given to us by the Class of 1962. With only a few days' rest between, we boarded buses to Washington, D. C. We toured the significant buildings and saw the actual government proceedings which we had studied about in P.O.D. class. Our efforts in salesmanship had finally been rewarded—our class trip.

Back at Schwenksville High again, we had some time left to cram for final exams, our last academic endeavor. After these, the future consisted only of graduation. We partook in Baccalaureate and Class Night programs. Commencement unbelievably arrived and we received our diplomas. We were graduates! It was a time of joy and sorrow, for we were leaving our friends, teachers, and our school, and going into the world.

We are now on our own, using what we have learned to do our best, and hoping Schwenksville High is as proud of us as we are of it.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Biely, entertained at many football games this year. They also marched in the Halloween Parade, played at the dedication of the new addition, and performed in the Spring Music Festival.

Another important part of the half-time activities at the football games were the majorettes. Their high stepping and baton whirling were admired by all.

We saluted the Alumni

October 8, 1960, marked the initial celebration of Homecoming at Schwenksville High. At the half-time of our football game with Lower Moreland, Bonnie Ickes was crowned Homecoming Queen by Pep Club sponsor, Thomas Keenan. That organization held the dance that evening entitled "As Time Goes By." Queen Bonnie and her court—Donna Cory, Eva Spatz, Joan Groth, and Donna Hunsicker—were also honored at that time.

They fought for victory — and won

The Schwenksville eleven had their best season in seventeen years, finishing with a 5-2-1 record, and occupying third place in the Inter-County League. The Bluebirds, who played to a scoreless tie with West Reading, won their next two games over the powerful Bridgeport and Pottsgrove teams. The Birds' only losses came in mid-season to Lower Moreland and Upper Dublin. Nicknamed "The Iron-men," they finished strongly, winning the last three games.

The final victory was a 34-21 triumph over arch-rival, Collegeville-Trappe.

Eight of the seventeen touchdowns were scored on passes by quarterback Bill Fenstermacher. Bob Walters led the team in scoring with eleven touchdowns. He, along with Ron Musselman and Jack Garrell, held positions on the Inter-County team. Ron was also honored by being given honorable mention on the All-State team.

Learning the fundamentals of flight

The young Bluebirds, playing their first season of Junior High football, finished with one win and two setbacks. Organized to provide the basic schooling of future varsity men, the team showed great promise for the future.

Outstanding performances by Al Cusumano, fullback; Rick Johnson, quarterback; and Ralph Heacock and Ken Nace, ends; indicate coming gridiron heroes. The Schwenksville fans have much to look forward to in the years to come.

Close decisions marked the season

The J.V. had a fairly successful season with a 1-3-3 record. Most of their losses were by narrow margins. The one win of the season was a 4-1 victory over Bridgeport. The J.V. coach for this season was Mrs. Spaid. Credit for an outstanding performance must go to Mary Lou Ziegler, who tallied three goals. Captain Linda Mathias and her squad show great promise as replacements for the nine seniors on the Varsity.

They had the spirit

With the help of Mr. Keenan, the Pep Club has done much to improve school spirit. They were responsible for many posters throughout the halls and supplied a spirited rooting section at the games. They sponsored the Homecoming Day festivities and dance, and also the annual Valentine's dance, "Sweethearts' Ball."

They did the job

The Varsity Club was intended to increase knowledge and experience in sports. This unit, comprised of lettermen, reviewed and studied films as its main activity. According to club adviser Mr. Resetar, emphasis was placed on the football category. The boys also assisted in junior and senior high intramural programs.

They recorded with pictures

With the able guidance of Mr. Steitz, the Photography Club has served our school in many ways. After learning to operate the visual aids equipment, the members assisted the faculty in the operation of this equipment in the classroom.

This year the club took pictures for the yearbook, made colored slides for school records, and took movies of football and hockey games. The darkroom in the high school addition enabled club members to develop their own pictures.

Culture was their key

Mr. Romasco's Prevúe Club was organized to discuss the various arts. Entertainment sections of newspapers were reviewed and comments were made on current plays, movies, and television shows. Throughout the year the members became more familiar with the current literary and theatrical movements.

The students spoke out

Student Council Officers: Vice President Bill Clossin; President, Carole Cole; Treasurer, Lee Miller; Secretary, Patti Friel.

Our Student Council, with the support of the administration and the students, has had a very successful term. They were responsible for numerous accomplishments.

Some of their main activities were the following: the publication of the handbook, the presentation of a fall dance, the arrangement of exchange assembly programs, a Thanksgiving program, the establishment of a record library, the organization of a school store in both the high school and the elementary school, and the renewal of the custom of sponsoring a Faculty-Council tea.

In addition, activities such as tag days, a student teaching day, the maintenance of the hall monitor system, and the establishment of rules for Kings and Queens of school activities have kept this group very active during this 1960-61 school year.

They preserved the journal of our high school years

The responsibility of this club was the preparation of our yearbook, the "Lanconian." Based on the theme, "The Calendar Year," our editorial staff has skillfully arranged the layout. Write-ups have been contributed by our team of members, in addition to class activities, reports from several underclassmen. Much credit for photographic assistance is due to Joan Groth and Mr. Steitz. The whole operation was under the auspices of Mr. Graber, club advisor.

Our efforts have created a means of binding and sharing our past times during our high school years.

News was heralded

The "Lanco News," which the student body received approximately once every six weeks, was published by the Newspaper Club under the direction of Miss Haley and Mrs. Young. This year Anne Cope and Nancy Dunkle shared the editorial duties.

The paper reviewed the events and happenings of the different classes, clubs, and other activities which enhanced our school year.

Precaution came first

Throughout the year the members of the safety patrol have served as junior policemen, helping to protect the students riding the buses or walking to and from school. Mr. Budnovitch, as faculty advisor, directed the patrol.

The cheerleaders, under the direction of Miss Haley, have very successfully promoted school spirit at Schwenksville this year. Vitality was displayed by the girls in conducting pep rallies and in lending their faithful support to the football and basketball teams. The varsity squad was co-captained by Patti Friel and Margie Weldon, while the J.V. six was led by Linda Mathias.

Fight, Fight, Fight, a little harder!

The Bluebirds weren't as fortunate on the court as on the gridiron, winning only one and dropping eleven in league action. The Birds' only win came on their own court against rival Collegeville-Trappe in one of the most thrilling basketball games ever seen by S.H.S. rooters. The game was a double overtime, won by Captain Bill Fenstermacher's two foul shots. "Fensty," Walters, and Musselman shared high point honors.

Fledglings took to the air

The Junior High had a very successful season under new head coach, Ted Budnovitch, winning seven and losing five games. The scoring was very evenly distributed: Johnson 107; Nace 105; Heacock 83; Stinger 61; Huber 59. Mr. Mikolaitis expects to show the fans a winning team next year with talented players like these.

Refing kept them stepping

Instructed by Miss Young, the girls reviewed the rules of girls' sports. With this knowledge they were able to officiate the intramural games and assist in gym classes.

Co-ordination was their goal

In this club the boys had the opportunity to participate in basketball, volleyball, and baseball. Under the direction of Mr. Budnovitch, the members learned the rules of various sports and the characteristics of good sportsmanship.

Kneeling: George Kulp, Dane Fisher, Donald Smoll, Thomas Hufnagle, Neal Hallman, Dennis Yerk, William Edmunds, Harry Doskicz, Robert Huber. Standing: Kenneth Nace, Clifford Malesky, George Greeby, John Meyers, Barry Kratz, David Smith, Lance Summers. Mr. Budnovitch.

Ladybirds made an encouraging comeback

The varsity Lady Birds had a fairly successful season, considering the fact that S.H.S. had no girls' basketball team last year. The girls' .400 record showed two victories against three defeats in league competition, with the big decision being a 37-28 romp over arch-rival Collegeville-Trappe.

The offensive scoring was led by Donna Wadlinger with 51 points, closely followed by team captain Margie Weldon who tallied 43 points.

Miss Baker piloted the team with the able assistance of Miss Young and the co-operation of all of the team members.

With experience they will shine

The girls' junior varsity team, although off to a slow start, also managed to compile a 2-3 record, topping Bridgeport and Collegeville-Trappe.

Ellen Preston proved to be the season's high scorer with 27 points, while Dawn Fisher and Linda Mathias also gave the opposing guards trouble.

The team, captained by Judy Kehs and coached by Miss Baker and Miss Young, displayed definite talent for future basketball success at S.H.S.

Royal couple reigned majestically

On Saturday, February 11, 1961, our new gymnasium was transformed into a ballroom for the "Sweethearts' Ball," sponsored by the Pep Club. Our Athletic Director, Michael Hader, crowned Queen Donna Wadlinger and King Bill Bogan. Crown bearers for this regal event were Gregory and Michelle Resetar. The crowning was followed by the traditional coronation waltz.

Outdoor living was appreciated

The Junior Sportsman's Club, sponsored by Mr. Eurich, has had a successful year, making bird feeders as their project. The club period consisted of varied instruction in hunting, laws of hunting, hunter's safety, safe handling of fire arms, and the makes of guns. Several periods were spent discussing owls, hawks, and trapping.

Athletics consumed free hours

Fundamentals of various sports were demonstrated and discussed in the Junior High Athletic Club, under the direction of Mr. Mikolaitis. The club gave the boys a chance to participate in football, basketball, baseball, and tumbling.

Standing: Miss Reitenbaugh. Seated, clockwise: David Coull, Susan Stayton, Patricia Beck, Patricia Dice, Marsha Jones, Diane Weirman, Dotty Owad.

They made the most of our library

This senior high club was presented with a more detailed picture of library methods. Classification of books in the Dewey Decimal System was explained by Miss Reitenbaugh. The members were kept posted on the current periodicals and latest books beneficial to their education.

Miss Reitenbaugh taught her club members library procedure, including the shelving and mending of books. These "junior librarians" administered our fine library occasionally. This familiarity with the library will prove both informative and useful in future years.

They "played the field"

In the 1959-60 baseball season the Birds played .333 ball under their new coach, Ted Budnovitch. They won four games, beating Jenkintown in the opener 3-2; Upper Dublin 5-3; Collegeville-Trappe 5-2; Bridgeport 8-6, and dropped eight. They finished in a tie for fourth place with Upper Dublin.

Needing replacements in only three positions, the Flock is looking toward a promising season.

"Fentsy" follows through.

We celebrated

The Junior High is "off and running."

"Muzzy's" ahead, with speed and a smile.

May Day, one of the most anticipated days of the school term, began with the procession of the Queen and her court onto the athletic field.

The 1960 Queen, Sally King, was crowned by the returning Queen, Donna Wile.

Activities then began! Eighth grade tallied a score of 12 points which made them the victors in the Junior High. The class of '61 led in the Senior High with 59 points.

"And when the curtain opened..."

Our Class of 1961 presented "Father of the Bride," a comedy in three acts by Caroline Francke, as our senior play on April 14, 15, under the direction of Mrs. Rolland.

The first act opened with the announcement of the engagement of Kay Banks to Buckley Dunstan, a broad-shouldered football hero. The wedding was to have been small, beautiful, and simple. Unfortunately the wedding guest-list grew as the Banks' family continued to think of people who really had to come. With the expectation of the happy occasion came many problems. Who should be invited to the church only, and who to the reception? Who would pay for the affair?

Nerves and tempers were strained to a breaking point. Kay and Buckley quarreled and the whole wedding was cancelled. Eventually the young couple realized their mistake. The romance was resumed; the wedding, rescheduled. Of course, everyone lived happily ever after.

"I cannot do this job."

"Let's go knock 'em dead."

The scene was set

As members of the Dramatics Club, the girls gained experience in a varied program, consisting of instruction in voice projection, stage presence, lighting, and make up. Plays and skits, presented to junior high school students under the leadership of Mrs. Rolland, enabled the girls to gain valuable experience in the field of drama.

Paints and ideas were tools

The junior high Art Club was under the instruction of Miss Hockl. They were taught the art of basket-weaving as well as painting. Many other divisions of the art field were also explored.

They went "nuts" with bolts

The Mechanics Club with Mr. Carfagno as sponsor studied the automobile engine this year. As their main project, they disassembled a Studebaker engine and then reassembled the same, learning the basic mechanical features of the engine.

Explorers "dug" for knowledge

Under the instruction of Mr. Hader, the Radiological Monitoring Club members, who are outstanding science students, considered the nature, occurrence, production, and measurements of radioactivity by means of various lectures and experiments.

Sparetime was made worthwhile

Under the guidance of Mr. Steitz, the Hobby Club members were given a sampling of several hobbies. The fields introduced were photography, archery, collections, painting, model making, marksmanship, and handicrafts. From these a student may have derived his individual hobby. The basis of this club was to help a student learn to spend his leisure time constructively and enjoyable outside of school.

Under the supervision of Mr. Byers, the members of the Senior High Hobby Club displayed and discussed their favorite pastimes, sharing their interests with the entire club. The various hobbies represented are building model cars, collecting coins and stamps, gathering historical documents, and writing to pen pals.

Shafer, Bill Swymelar, Raymond Weggand, Carl Cook, John Gillmer, Mrs. Anderson.

They "played the numbers"

Fun With Math Club, instructed by Mr. Shoemaker, learned to use numbers more accurately and correctly. They studied number systems used in computing machines. They also worked on puzzles, adding machines, and an abacus, a Chinese counting machine. It was a prosperous and beneficial year for all who participated.

The kitchen was their haven

Under the supervision of Mrs. Anderson, the boys in the Chef's Club have learned to prepare a variety of quick meals. They planned the meals one week and cooked and ate them the following week. Some of their more remembered feasts included pizza, spaghetti, and ravioli. This was successful training for future bachelors.

Science was their guide

Students eager to supplement their science class instruction were members of the Junior Science Club. Mr. Kunkle, club advisor, assisted the students in typical experiments wherever there was current interest. In addition, films were viewed to help clarify different science subjects.

They knew their notes

The Glee Club, directed by Mr. Biely, has frequently participated in school activities this year. They supplied the musical segments for the High School Dedication Ceremonies and our holiday assemblies. The foremost occasion for our "Schwenksville Singers" was the annual Spring Music Festival.

The Girls' Ensemble, composed of selected Glee Club members, provided Season's Greetings with their caroling through the halls. They also sang before the local Civic Club and for the Baccalaureate Service.

Looking forward to

The junior year has been a busy one for our Class of 1962. Activities have been numerous and varied.

Our year began with the sponsoring of student buses to several football games. Our first dance, held in January, was entitled "Venus by Night." The gym was decorated to give the impression of a typical winter eve. Our April dance, "Eternal Fascination," ushered in spring. The highlight of our year, of course, was the presentation of the Junior-Senior Prom for the graduating class. Another important activity was the selling of Easter candy.

We, the members of the Junior Class, would like to extend our best wishes to the Senior Class for future success.

The sands of time

We, the Class of 1963, began our high school career quite successfully. In the fall we were well represented on the hockey and football teams. We also were encouraged by our candy sale profits.

Winter brought our first dance "Winter Wonderland" on December 3, 1960, and a trip to Ben-Hur which our class organized. Winter also brought the mementos of high school which we carry with us each day—our class rings.

We are also proud of our classmates, boys and girls, who served their school on the basketball and baseball teams this past year.

We wish to extend our hopes that the Class of 1961 has a profitable and successful future.

Construction of a public building is always a major undertaking for any community. This is particularly true of the construction of the new addition to Schwenksville High School, and only through the efforts of the Joint School Authority has this building become a reality.

The actual construction evolved only after careful study and preparation. Needs of the students were evaluated, costs were estimated and budgeted, plans were carefully drafted. Throughout the period of construction, the members of the Authority displayed courage and patience as they met the many problems which arose. They gave unstintingly of their time and energy, and they have earned the sincere thanks of the whole community.

The School Authority was created in 1954 to serve as the financing agency for the required additions to elementary and secondary buildings, and since that time the Authority has worked closely with the School Board and School Administration to provide the necessary physical plant.

In September of 1960 the new high school addition was opened for use. It consisted of an auditorium-gymnasium with locker room facilities, a science laboratory, a library, six new classrooms, and administrative and guidance offices.

The citizens of the Union School District have every right to be proud of the new addition to the high school, for to its consummation have been put forth the best efforts of all concerned — Joint School Authority, School Board, Administration, Faculty, Architects, Builders, and Citizens.
